

Investor Scenarios

While tough markets can test your risk tolerance and investment strategy, they often represent opportunities for investors who are seeking long term growth.

Looking for opportunities

Having a diversified investment portfolio that reflects your goals is key to long-term success. But sometimes, market activity can cause your asset mix to drift from its original target and no longer reflect your needs. If maintaining your current lifestyle is important to you, the more you have going in, the better your situation will be after you retire. An advisor can ensure your RSP investments are making the most of what you have.

Choose an 'investor' that best represents your present investment situation:

Related Article

Managing investment risk today

Hi, I'm Liz. Lifestyle is important to me and I want to make sure I'm as comfortable in retirement as I am today. So, I invest the maximum I can every year in my RSP. I wanted to be certain that I'm making the most of what I have. I know enough about investing to know that these ever-changing markets also represent opportunities for people like me – who are in it for the long term. I wanted to see if Scotiabank could give me a different perspective.

With a free Second Opinion from Scotiabank, my advisor helped put the current markets in perspective and identified some investing opportunities that I otherwise might have missed. In this market? That's not a mistake I want to make. Getting a Second Opinion gave me an expert perspective on the opportunities that exist today, and the impact they'll have over the long – term.

Sideline copy:

While tough markets can test your risk tolerance and investment strategy, they often represent opportunities for investors who are seeking long term growth.